ABOUT US

Rendering services that improve business conditions.
Giving clients the needed advantage is our promise.

We are 1st World Developments, a well-versed firm that specializes in Adhoc, Consulting and Research services with a visible impact within the South African borders. We combine years of experience, knowledge and practical foresight to identify, examine and propose solutions to clients across various industries and sectors. Our solutions employ diagnostic and analytical frameworks, methodologies as well as software and tools to assesses strengths and threats to understand a company's competitive position, smooth the transition when implementing new strategies and lastly, leverage for day-to-day operations, collaboration, and client deliverables. The results from our "1st World" approach

+ 1. Cost efficiency and Agility when undertaking daily and long-term activities.

+ 2. Receive specialized expertise with objective perspectives.

+ 3. Transforming raw data into actionable insights.

The business environment is ever-changing, and these changes are often unforeseen and affect daily and long-term operations of the business. To give clients the advantage we dedicate our efforts to understand the local ecosystem, regulatory nuances, and regional supply chains, test assumptions early and avoid costly mistakes on behalf of the clients. We work with stakeholders, the business community and state entities to build unshakeable trust, adopt value-based perspectives to provide performance that is visible and tied to the Key Performance Index (KPI's) of all stakeholders.

RESEARCH

Information and firsthand data should be objective and meet qualitative targets.

Through the collaboration of methodologies, insights and data, we are able to render research services that inform decision making and reveal opportunities and threats that affect the navigation of business. They are:

+ Case Studies & Longitudinal Studies

+ Focus Groups

+ In-Depth Expert Interviews (IDI)

+ Syndicated Research Reports

The research we undertake has a mandate to try to anticipate changing conditions, giving context to trends and forecasting directions for the organization. Our research team is comprised of Market Research Analysts, team of Insights and a Research Operations Administrator. Our research services also supports long-term strategy execution by establishing metrics, tracking performance and ensuring organizational goals stay aligned with market realities.

Perceptions are an evolving action that is committed by people. We probe the depth of the perceptions of products, strategies and concepts. The result is a tangible and relatable data that provides foresight.
